

CALL FOR ARTICLES

YEARBOOK OF ISLAMIC AND MIDDLE EASTERN LAW

VOLUME 17 (2011-2012)

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: 30 MARCH 2013

The Yearbook of Islamic and Middle Eastern Law (YIMEL) is now requesting articles and case-notes for its Volume 17 (2011-2012). Contributors are invited to submit articles of approximately 10 to 15,000 words (including footnotes) for publication in the YIMEL. Those interested in contributing are requested to respond to this Call for Papers by email to:

yimel@soas.ac.uk

The deadline for submissions is 30 March 2013.

Established at the School of Oriental and African Studies (University of London) and published by Brill, the YIMEL is Europe's leading publication in the field of Islamic and Middle Eastern Law. It examines the latest legal trends in the Middle East and Islamic world as well as research on Islamic jurisprudence and Islamic law in general. It is the only law journal that comprehensively surveys the legal developments of individual countries in the Islamic world, stretching from the Middle East to South and South East Asia. It has become an essential source for academics and practitioners who wish to remain updated on the most recent legal developments in this fast changing part of the world.

YIMEL is available in electronic form to subscribers of Heinonline or the Brill website: <http://booksandjournals.brillonline.com/content/22112987>.

YIMEL 17 will be out in print by October 2013.

The Editors,

Eugene Cotran

Martin Lau

Faris Nasrallah (Assistant Editor)

Taymour Harding (Assistant Editor)